Alan Van Tassel joined Affiliated Monitors, Inc. (AMI) in 2021 as a Compliance & Monitoring Associate. He monitors compliance with conditions of settlement, non-prosecution and deferred prosecution agreements in both the corporate and healthcare spheres. He also contributes to proactive ethics and compliance assessments. Since joining AMI, Alan has worked with healthcare agencies, individual healthcare practitioners across the country, corporate clients in various industries, and on claims administration matters.

Before joining AMI, Alan spent more than two decades on regulatory and compliance matters with the Massachusetts Division of Professional Licensure (now Division of Occupational Licensure) as an investigator and investigations supervisor. He worked closely with the Boards of Chiropractic Medicine, Professional Engineers, Veterinary Medicine, Psychology, and Funeral Directors; however, in his tenure with the DPL, he interacted with nearly all of its 30 licensing boards.

As an investigations supervisor, Alan developed cooperative relationships with federal, state, and quasi-public entities such as the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency, the Massachusetts Attorney General's Office, and the Massachusetts Insurance Fraud Bureau. He was a knowledgeable and engaging speaker for professional associations, continuing education seminars, and insurance fraud prevention association meetings, often asked to present updates on regulatory changes to licensees. He frequently appeared in media coverage of the Division's investigatory efforts and was featured in the cover story of DVM Magazine in 2007.

Alan graduated from the University of Massachusetts Amherst with a Bachelor of Arts in Political Science. He also served as Aide to the Minority Leader of the Massachusetts Senate for eight years.

Alan also has over twenty years of experience on the board of directors of a non-profit housing development for moderate/low-income senior citizens, where he has served eight elected terms as President of the board.
